

Hi,

I am only home a couple of hours each day (awake) and my home is my sanctuary. They can send all the junk mail they want but tell them to stay off my phone. They even call and if there is not a rep available then they hang up repeatedly. This is harrassment - my home is my safety zone and these telemarketers are making my life miserable. If you dont believe it put, it to vote. I dont care how much they pledge to poloticians this must stop or else you need to start publishing politicians home phone numbers. . . .

Please make then stop . . . we beg you!

Sincerely,
Michael Reimers
